

Greetings Magus Gaius Marius Cicero,

I am sure you continue to hunt enemies of the Order and this letter finds you well.

Magus Zebeeba has made me aware that she has recently contacted you and I have thanked her for this. In my hasty departure I did not provide thanks to you my Parens for your years of training and I hope that should you be within the Provençal Tribunal that you will visit my new home at Infractus Summus Redivivus and that we can provide you with Hospitality; and possibly a challenge or two in this land.

We could use someone of your knowledge and experience in the coming years, even if it is but for a season. The Covenant is currently assessing the resources at our disposal while attempting to discover the fate, and possible location, of the previous occupants. Have you had any dealing with the Fontis Niger Covenant?

We have also met The Quaesitor of this Tribunal; he seems a fine fellow, if a little small! Can you tell me anything of Quaesitor Bernadus Cupidus, have you dealt with him in the past?

In addition we have encountered a somewhat less than helpful Covenant of Mistridge who it would seem are the dominant force in this land. Again it seems I have only questions for my Parens but is there anything you know of this Covenant and those who dwell within it?

Once again thank-you Magus Gaius Marius Cicero, may you find and conquer challenges or die trying.

Magus Quintus Sertorius Sulla
